At Estora, transparency is a core part of our brand.

Our mission is to provide you with a highly personalised and valuable service, connecting you with fashion you'll love.

To help fund this service, Estora participates in various affiliate marketing programs, which means we may earn a commission on purchases made through our links to retailer sites.

Please be assured that this comes at no additional cost to you.

Our AI recommendations are designed to be objective, relevant, and based on your unique style profile.

Our affiliate partnerships do not influence the items we recommend, and we are committed to helping you find the best product, regardless of our affiliate relationships.

Estora connects users directly to brand partners, driving qualified traffic and high-intent purchase journeys.
